

LeadAbroad

International Job Opportunities

ROLE	PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITIES	GREAT FOR SOMEONE WHO:	TIMEFRAME	PRE-PROGRAM EXPECTATIONS	EXPENSES COVERED	SALARY/STIPEND
INTERNSHIP	Internship Supporting our Program Directors in the daily operations of the program while providing exceptional student support and mentorship	Amazing opportunity for juniors or seniors who are passionate about travel and student mentorship and development	Summer	Program trainings (about 1 hr per week March to program start)	International airfare, health insurance, housing, all program related activities and tours, local sim card	Unpaid
FELLOWSHIP	Serve as the assistant to the Program Director for all daily operations, student support and risk management procedures	Perfect role for a graduating senior who is looking for an epic adventure and interested in both sales and operations	Summer/ Fall	Program trainings and projects (about 2 hours per week January to program start)	International airfare, health insurance, housing, all program related activities and tours, local sim card	Small completion bonus and stipend provided while abroad. The fall sales and marketing role is also compensated
PROGRAM DIRECTOR	Our Program Directors lead our teams, keep our students and staff safe and execute all program logistics. It is a big responsibility with incredible opportunities for leadership and growth	This role is perfect for someone who is responsible, organized and ideally has worked with LeadAbroad before or who has graduated and is looking for a unique challenge in an amazing location with incredible people	Summer	Program trainings and projects (about 2 hours per week starting in January then about 45 days out from the program)	International airfare, health insurance, housing, all program related activities and tours, local sim card	Salary and stipend provided
TEACHING ASSISTANT	The role of a TA is not a typical TA position. In addition to supporting the faculty in delivering lessons and grading, TAs will plug into the programming operations, student support and our emergency response plan	The job is great for someone in graduate school pursuing a degree that focuses on the development of others such as student affairs or organizational leadership	Summer	Program trainings and academic prep (about 1 hr per week March to program start)	International airfare, health insurance, housing, all program related activities and tours, local sim card	Salary and stipend provided

LeadAbroad

Application Preparation

Questions to prepare for:

- Travel Experiences
- Work Experiences
- Leadership Experiences

Have ready:

- Summer availability
- Resume
- Professional reference contact information
- Your top 5 strengths (If you haven't taken a strengths finder before, please email info@LeadAbroad.com)

Additional:

Communication is an important skill for everyone on our international team. From making morning announcements to teaching a lesson, all staff will need to be confident and clear in their communication. In order to see your communication style and get to know you better we would like you to film a quick 60-90 second video of yourself introducing you to the LeadAbroad team. Be creative and show us your personality through the video. Upload your videos to vimeo or youtube and be sure it is unlisted and accessible to anyone with the link. Include the link below.

If you speak Spanish:

You will need to complete a Spanish test.

- Go to this website
- Click create an account and sign in (under step 1)
- For ID number, enter "LeadAbroad" or leave it blank
- Select Spanish test
- Once you complete the assessment, take note of your score and submit on application

